DURATION

Copyrights are granted for a limited, but long, time.

- A work created after January 1, 1978, is given a term for the author's life, plus an additional 70 years after the author's death.
- In the case of “a joint work” prepared by two or more authors that was not a “work made for hire,” the term lasts for 70 years after the last surviving author's death.
- For works made for hire, and for anonymous and pseudonymous works, the duration of copyright will be 95 years from publication or 120 years from creation, whichever is shorter.
